FARMERS URGED TO SELECT CORN EARLY

Seed Corn From Standing Stalks As Soon As Corn Is Mature Is Best Say Experts.

CAMPAIGN FOR SELECTION

Seed Scarcity Of Last Year Made It Necessary To Import Many Varieties From Other States

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. —Select seed corn from standing stalks and as soon as the corn is mature. This is the message to Indiana farmers from C. Henry, of Purdue University, state leader of the campaign for fall selection of seed which is being waged under the auspices of the Indiana Committee on Food Production and Conservation. If this bit of advice is followed, it will mean that every farmer in the state will be supplied with seed corn to plant next spring.

"The height at which the ears are borne on the stalk bear a direct relation to the maturity, the highest ears being uniformly later. Diseases can be detected at this time and all ears from diseased stalks should be passed by. G. N. Hoffer, of Purdue University, has shown that most diseases are transmitted through the seed. Nubbins are largely a result of some form of disease. The character of the stalk and ear should be judged together. This is impossible where crib selection is practiced."

The seed scarcity last spring made it necessary to import many varieties from other counties and from several states. Years of careful study and selection have established varieties suited to the five state corn districts. These varieties have stood the test of years and proved their value. It may be that in some instances, introduced varieties are worthy of adoption. Caution should be exercised even more, because one season's experience is insufficient time on which to judge the adaptability. Exceptional favorable weather prevailed this season; another season may not be so favorable.

"Corn is made up of cellular tissues," said Mr. Henry. "Freezing bursts the cell walls of moist corn in the same way that it bursts earthenware vessels filled with water. Freezing will burst neither when dry. Hence, corn should be stored in an airy place where there is no danger of freezing until thoroughly dry. It should be so

POLITICAL CAMPAIGN EXPECTED TO PICK UP

Latter Part of Month Will See Renewed Activity in State When House Recedes

REGISTRATION IS BACKWARD

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 14.—The political campaign which has slowed down during the last two weeks, is expected to pick up rapidly the latter part of the month. Democratic leaders have staged their district meetings in all parts of the state and they are now concentrating on local campaigns.

The fact that Gov. Goodrich will not be able to participate in the active speaking campaign of the republicans has caused a revision of the G. O. P. plans. The governor may issue several statements at the St. Vincent's hospital where he is recovering from injuries received in an auto accident but it is doubtful if he will be able to make any speeches before election.

Members of the house of representatives are expected home the latter part of the month when the house plans to recess, and a considerable activity will then probably be noticeable.

Reports from over the state show that the registration for election is still backward and that not more than thirty per cent of the total vote cast in the 1916 election has been registered. The soldiers' registration at various camps is also very light. At both Camp Taylor and Camp Sherman the registration was about fifty per cent of the expected total.

He said that carpenters and general laborers were wanted more particularly right now.

REVENUE BUREAU WANTS HELPERS

Thousands of New Employees Needed in Administration of New Bill Now Pending

NEW FORMS TO BE PREPARED

Vast Number of Returns Filed by Taxpayers Must be Audited And Rechecked.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Thousands of new employees will be needed by the bureau of internal revenue, the largest collection agency in the world, in the administration of the new revenue bill now pending.

For the year ended June 30, 1918, the bureau collected nearly $1,700,000,000 from more than 4,000,000 individuals and corporations. The pending bill makes the commissioner of internal revenue responsible for the collection in 1919 of not less than $8,000,000,000.

Taxpayers all over the country must be told all about the new law, and how, when, and where to pay their taxes. New forms must be prepared and millions of copies printed and distributed by January 1, 1919. In addition, the vast number of returns filed by taxpayers must be carefully audited and in many instances, checked against the original books of account.

After proper training some of the employees will be sent into the field to assist taxpayers in making out their returns and to verify returns filed with the bureau. Others will be employed as auditors and examiners in Washington.

There are places for both men and women. The salaries range from $1200 to $3600, depending upon ability, experience and training. Semi-senior accountants are eligible for appointment at salaries ranging from $2,000 to $3,600 a year. Senior accountants will be used principally in field investigations, and when away from their principal places of business will be paid actual necessary expenses in addition to salary. Semi-senior accountants are wanted for positions as auditors and examiners of accounts in the bureau at Washington.

Employment in the bureau of internal revenue does not carry with it exemption or deferred classification with respect to the draft. Consequently consideration can be given applicants who are in class 3 or 4, or who have been granted exemption because of physical disability.

"Men between 45 and 51 who are capable of performing the work required may find here an excellent opportunity for patriotic service," said Commissioner of Internal Revenue Daniel C. Roper. "There is no more important work and surely no work more vital to the prosecution of the war than the collection of revenues for the support of our soldiers and sailors. Already many trained accountants have accepted positions with the bureau at large personal sacrifices. It is to be hoped that men and women who fall within the classes enumerated, and who possess high qualifications along accounting lines will avail themselves of this exceptional opportunity for patriotic service."

FISH IN POND ARE DYING BY HUNDREDS

Only Solution to the Mystery is That They Were Poisoned by a Pro-German

FIRST NOTICED LAST WEEK

Poison thrown into a pond just across the mill race from the I. & C. power house and west of the C. I. & W. railroad, which has caused the death of hundreds of fish in the last few days, is believed to have been the work of some pro-German.

The killing of so many fish can be solved in no other way except on the theory that they have been poisoned.

The dead fish were first noticed on the surface of the pond, which is owned by A. R. Herkless, last Wednesday. Since that time they have continued to die in increasing numbers and it is very probable that every fish in the pond will be lost.

No reason for poisoning fish can be determined unless it was done by someone who is not in sympathy with the United States in its war against Germany. The general use of fish as a substitute for meat has been urged by the food administration, and the person responsible for the poisoning may have thought he was damaging the cause of this country.

Two half-brothers, Patrick and Martin Higgins, and one half-sister, Mrs. Kate Walls of Indianapolis, also survive.

The deceased who had resided in this city since 1862, was born in Westport, county Mayo, Ireland, but came to this country, however, with her parents when a child. The funeral services will be conducted Wednesday morning at nine o'clock at St. Mary's Catholic church with the Rev. M. W. Lyons officiating, after which burial will be made in Calvary cemetery.

LEAPS FROM BALLOON HIT BY A HUN BULLET

James Shannahan Makes Safe Landing With Parachute Inside the American Lines

AN OBSERVER IN FRANCE

To leap in a parachute from an observation balloon, when it was punctured by a Hun bullet while fifteen hundred feet in the air, and make a safe landing, inside his own lines, is the experience which James Shannahan, a former Rush county boy, relates in a letter received by relatives here.

The movements of observation balloons are regulated by a cable from the ground and they are used for ascertaining the artillery range. The position of such a balloon is constantly being changed so German airplanes can not get their range.

The observation balloon service is one that is very hard to get into and the local boy was one of four out of a large number selected for the difficult work. He says in his letter that he ascended in another balloon just as soon as he landed.

James Shannahan, formerly of this city and Brookville, who has been with the training detachment at the Metropole Barracks, Indianapolis, has been selected for the infantry officers training camp at Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill.

The penny supper, which was to have been given this Wednesday evening at the First Presbyterian church by the members of the Women's Relief Corps, has been postponed indefinitely on account of a death in one of the members family.

A message from Gilbert Meredith of Miami, Florida; formerly of this city, announces the arrival of a son, Thomas George, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Condon of Miami, September 15. Mrs. Condon was formerly Miss Lucile Meredith and is well known here.

Much Coal is Wasted

With the same degree of energy, enthusiasm and patriotism as manifested by the women of the United States during the year in saving sufficient wheat to feed all of the Allies, the owners of steam plants and the firemen can save in the next year forty-five million tons of coal, and thereby reduce materially the threatened coal shortage, according to the United States bureau of mines, department of the interior.

In the average steam plant, for every hundred tons of coal burned, only fifty-seven tons are actually used in making steam. The Bureau of Mines declares that it is entirely feasible to increase the average efficiency of these plants from 57 to 67 percent, saving fifteen tons of coal out of every 100 tons used. As 300,000,000 tons of coal annually are necessary to supply all the steam plants in this country, the same work could be done with 255,000,000 tons with a saving of about 45,000,000 tons.

In the average boiler plant, according to the statement of the bureau, 25 per cent of the heat of the coal burned is lost up the stack. That is, out of every 100 tons of coal burned, the heat of thirty-five tons literally goes up the stack. This loss, which the bureau believes can be greatly reduced, is caused by the admission of too much or too little air to burn the coal properly. It takes fourteen pounds of air to burn one pound of coal and this can be gaged by the use of proper apparatus, which is explained by the bureau of Mines in a pamphlet just issued for the benefit of the firemen.

Join A Drop Bomb Club

Have you heard of the new fad in Rush county? It is a part of the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign, which is officially under way here having started with the meeting of canvassers Saturday. As facts go, this one is spreading like wildfire. All over the county Demolition Drop Bomb Clubs are being formed. That sounds destructive, and it is meant to be, for the Huns. Each club is limited to nine members and each member buys one $100 bond of the fourth Liberty loan. This $900, lent to Uncle Sam will buy 20 demolition drop bombs, the terrible explosives which our aviators drop on the trains and other military establishments of the Boches. Every bomb that finds its mark is guaranteed to blow to kingdom come everything in the vicinity. Moreover, the club members, many of whom are women, may rest assured that not one of the bombs they help to buy will ever be dropped on a Red Cross hospital, which is the habit of the gentle Hun whose favorite mark is a nurse or helpless wounded soldier.

Since there are but nine members to a club, many citizens who desire and are able to take more than one bond are joining several clubs. It is proposed that some emblem of membership be adopted. This would

The old adage of taking about all you hear with the proverbial "grain of salt" is true in the case of the story that has been gaining ground that Canada is not hospitable to American visitors. Perhaps this is some more of the German propaganda, floated about to stir up feeling between the two big countries of North America. Anyway, it's entirely without foundation. There has never been a time when Americans were not graciously received in every part of the Dominion and given every courtesy possible. All that Canada is asking is, "Are you a genuine American?" Satisfied on that point, her gates are wide open and the country is yours. If she stops to question those who knock at her doors she is doing no more than we are. These are times when every one must prove his loyalty to the land and fraudulent Americans or Canadians must be detained. If you're all right don't worry—Canada welcomes you more than ever.

If you were an American soldier coming cold and wet and tired from the front line trenches, wouldn't it delight you to find Salvation Army lassies frying fresh doughnuts and making hot coffee for you? When you "loosen up" for the Salvation Army drive you help provide the comforts for the boys in France. No institution comes as near the firing line as the Salvation Army.

The full sugar bowl has been dismissed from restaurant and hotel tables to the Land of Past Tense. Probably it has come across the family butter plate there and is visiting happily with it.

Politics is not, the only thing which should be adjourned for the period of the war. We might mention selfishness, extravagance, greed and profiteering. What can you think of to add to the list?

When a conscientious objector receives a sentence of from fifteen to twenty years of hard labor he must wish that he had either objected less or been less conscientious.

When pay day comes, go out and revel in Thrift stamps. There is no war tax on Thrift stamps, and the after effect of even a debauch in them is perfectly harmless.

SEASON TO OPEN IN NOVEMBER

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 16.—Two men and four women, prominent in agricultural work in the state, have been added to the staff of thirty farmers' institute speakers in Indiana. Prof. W. C. Latta, of Purdue University, institute specialist, announced today. The new speakers are J. E. Bremer, livestock farmer, Medaryville; F. E. Yoder, dairyman, South Bend; Mrs. F. H. Richardson, Hanna; Mrs. Rufus Brown, Gosport; Mrs. T. R. Stevens, Orla; Mrs. Lillian T. Pierce, Knightstown. All are practical farmers or farm women.

The institute season will open November 19 with sessions at Salem, Mauckport, Guilford and Eminence. No sessions will be held the following week because of Thanksgiving but they will resume Dec. 3, and continue until the end of February, except during the holidays and the farmers' short course at Purdue.

Five hundred and forty Indiana towns, and cities rural communities have booked the institutes and local associations to care for them have been formed in practically every county. Last year 1,392 institute sessions were held at practically 500 towns and cities in the state and the total attendance was 202,000, which shows the marked interest in these affairs.

GRIGSBY EXPLAINS HOW HE WAS WOUNDED

Former Richland Township Boy's Letters Censored, Many Details Being Erased

HE HAS ONLY FLESH WOUNDS

Letters received from Private Arthur Grigsby Saturday explain the telegram of a few weeks ago from the war department, which placed him in the casualty list among those "injured, degree undetermined," with the statement that flesh wounds resulted from an encounter with the Boche.

Apparently the wounded boy, who formerly resided in Richland township, went into details in the letter which he wrote to relatives here, over the atrocities of the Huns, since his letter resembled an old fashioned "crazy quilt" upon its arrival here, so censored was every page, which doubtless contained outbursts against the enemy.

From the uncensored parts, however, it was gathered that the boy was injured by flesh wounds on his face, legs and arms, resulting from bursting shells. He was rushed to a rest camp in England where he is receiving treatment. The injuries were sustained August 10, on which there was doubtless a brisk encounter over No Man's Land.

Emphatically Asserts Worn Out, Lagging Men Can Quickly Become Vigorous and Full of Ambition

7 A DAY FOR 7 DAYS

Don't blame the man who is perpetually tired; his blood needs more red corpuscles and his brain and nerves are craving for food. Given the right kind of medicine, any tired-out, inactive, lagging fellow can quickly be made into a real live, energetic and even ambitious man. So says a student of the nervous system who advises all men and women who feel worn out and who find it hard to get up ambition enough to take a regular job to get a package of Bio-feren at any drugist. This is the new discovery that pharmacists are recommending because it is not expensive and speedily puts vigor and ambition into people who despaired of ever amounting to anything in life. People whose nerves have been wrecked by too rapid living, too much tobacco or alcohol, have regained their old-time confidence and energy in less than two weeks. No matter from what cause your nerves went back on you; no matter how run down, nervous or tired, out you are, get an original package of Bio-feren at once. Take two tablets after each meal and one before bedtime—seven a day for seven days—then one after each meal till all are gone. Then if you still lack ambition; if your nerves are not steady and you haven't the energy that red-blooded, keen-minded men possess, your purchase money will be gladly returned. Note to Physicians: There is no secret about the formula of Bio-feren. It is printed on every package. Here it is: Lactidin, Calcium Glycero-phosphate, Iron Peptonate, Manganese Peptonate, Eps. Nut. Vomica Powdered Gentian, Phenolphthalein, Oleoresin Capsicum, Kola.

When our customers come to our store they ASK US THE PRICE. No man would buy a manure spreader without knowing exactly what he is going to pay for it—that is good business.

However, some men fail to get as much information about the machine as they get about the price, and this is where such men are absolutely WRONG.

Come and see the RUSHVILLE SPECIAL—look it over, and if you think it will last you twice as long as any other spreader on the market, would you be willing to pay twice as much as the other fellows ask? Perhaps not, but you ought to be willing to pay a good deal more.

Now, we are offering you the RUSHVILLE SPECIAL at a moderate price, and with it we give you a guarantee that on the face of it, should convince you that this Spreader will OUT-LAST other makes of machines at least two to one. There is a reason for this durability, and this reason is in the material used and the manner in which the machine is built. This spreader is built at a factory where they don't build anything else. Dr. Barnard Forwards Official Recognition to Each of Ninety-Two Counties

County federal food administrators are accorded a very complimentary recognition by Herbert Hoover, head of the national food administration, in a telegram just received by Dr. Harry E. Barnard, federal food administrator for the state. Mr. Hoover wires.

"I wish you would express to each county food administrator in your state the great appreciation we all have for the fine service they have given our common task. I was particularly struck by the repeated occasions during our recent conference, when such expressions arose as 'We can and must depend upon our county administrators for that' or 'Our county administrators will put that over', or 'Our county administrators have done this or that.' All these expressions recalled to me the relations of the army staff to the men on the firing line and I wish you would take opportunity to thank them in my name for their great service to their country and her people at home."

Dr. Barnard has forwarded to each of the 92 county administrators of the state this expression of official recognition, with a similar expression of his own appreciation of the work that has made Indiana conspicuous in the food production and conservation efforts.

County administrators of the state have been informed of the national plan to inaugurate an even more intensive educational campaign, during the winter, in order that there may be stored up against a possible crop failure next year a surplus of staples that will make certain the continued effective prosecution of the war without the additional handicap of short rations for the armies in Europe and civilian populations speeded up in a program of war support. Their assistance, especially in spreading the gospel of food conservation among school children, who in turn will be asked and expected to carry the message home, will be enlisted.

MARINE CORPS CASUALTIES

Washington, Sept. 16.—The combined casualty lists which were released for Sunday and today show a decided decrease in the casualties among the American troops. In the three lists which were issued from the Washington office the casualties amounted only to 306 which included the names of 19 Indians.

Red Cross Has Been Requested To Conduct Campaign For Collection Of Nut Shells

FOR GAS DEFENSE DIVISIONS

To Be Used In Making Gas Masks For Boys Over There—Calls On Patriotism Of Country

The local chapter of the Red Cross has been requested to furnish centers for the collection of fruit pits and nut shells in Rush county.

The earnestness with which the government is backing this movement indicates the importance of the material to the gas defense division of the army and as a result has sent an urgent appeal asking that shells and fruit pits which might be in abundance in this section of the country collected at headquarters for shipment.

Recent information states that the government has ceased paying for the material but is appealing to the patriotism of the people of the nation to collect it and deliver it without charge to designated centers in each county. The headquarters for each section of the county will be announced soon.

School boys and girls and Boy Scouts of Rush county have been appealed to by the county of defense council to assist in this work and since walnuts are most plentiful, this year, it is believed that several tons of shells will be available.

So insistent and important has become the demand from the gas defense division for an increased supply of fruit pits, that the assistance of the United States food administration has also been enlisted for the collection of what heretofore has been considered valueless waste.

Dr. Harry E. Barnard, federal food administrator, acting upon the request received in a special bulletin just received from Washington has asked every food administrator and assistant in the conservation campaign to conserve these pits. Householders, hotels and other consumers are being looked after by the American Red Cross society through its local chapters, and the food administration through its state, county, city and township organizations are urged to get behind the effort.

Commercial canners and packers have been solicited by the food administration to save and dry the following pits: peach stones or seeds; apricot pits; plum pits; olive pits; date seeds; and cherry pits. This collection is in addition to the campaign for nut shells, which also are wanted for the manufacture of gas masks.

"Hero Day" will be observed in Rushville next Sunday evening with a union meeting at night at the St. Paul's M. E. church, when the address will be delivered by the Rev. C. J. Bunnell, pastor of the First Baptist church.

This was decided at a meeting of the Rushville Ministerial association Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Bunnell was selected to make the address because he is the only Rushville pastor who has given any sons to the cause of the country. He has one son in France and another subject to call.

A few days ago Governor Goodrich issued a proclamation calling on every community in the state to observe "Hero Day" as a testimonial of this country's appreciation of the services of the men who are giving their lives in France for the cause of freedom, and to preserve this nation.

The ministerial association also decided this morning that the hour of the Sunday evening services, which is now 7:30, would be changed to 7:00 the first Sunday in October, because the day after tomorrow, the

Ministerial Association Arranges For Union Meeting at St. Paul's M. E. Church at Night

REV. C. J. BUNNELL TO SPEAK

"Hero Day" will be observed in Rushville next Sunday evening with a union meeting at night at the St. Paul's M. E. church, when the address will be delivered by the Rev. C. J. Bunnell, pastor of the First Baptist church.

This was decided at a meeting of the Rushville Ministerial association Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Bunnell was selected to make the address because he is the only Rushville pastor who has given any sons to the cause of the country. He has one son in France and another subject to call.

A few days ago Governor Goodrich issued a proclamation calling on every community in the state to observe "Hero Day" as a testimonial of this country's appreciation of the services of the men who are giving their lives in France for the cause of freedom, and to preserve this nation.

The ministerial association also decided this morning that the hour of the Sunday evening services, which is now 7:30, would be changed to 7:00 the first Sunday in October, because of the change in the season.

He plays a saxophone. Private Sherman spent the week-end here with his parents.

Announcement Made At Party

News of Approaching Marriage of Miss Clorene Amos and J. Kennard Allen Made Known in a Clever way at Pretty Luncheon Saturday.

The announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Clorene Amos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Amos, to J. Kennard Allen of Camp Taylor, Ky., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wash Allen of this city, was the occasion of one of the most attractive of the fall social affairs. The announcement followed a one o'clock luncheon at the home of the parents of the bride-elect south of the city, Saturday afternoon, which was given in honor of the house guest of the hostess, Mrs. Marie Morrell of Indianapolis. The interior of the home was artistically arranged for the occasion with a color scheme of purple and white predominating. Wicker baskets overflowing with purple asters were everywhere in evidence, with huge bows of purple and white tulle topping each of the floral arrangements. Wall pockets with streaming smilax were intermingled with the purple blossoms and in the dining room where the guests were seated, the same color scheme was carried out. A large basket of wicker adorned the center of the large table with miniature likenesses in the center of each of the four smaller tables, where the places were marked by dainty purple and white cards, each bearing clever verses.

Following the luncheon, the announcement was made in a most unique manner as the guests were being entertained informally on the veranda of the home which was transformed into a veritable old fashioned garden by clusters of brilliantly colored marigolds, zinnias, youth and old age and larkspur. Little Ellen Jane Crumacker, niece of the bride-elect, directed among the assemblage of guests attired as a bride. Falling over her white gown was a bridal veil and instead of the usual brides shower bouquet, a huge bow of lavender and white tulle hung from her arm, hidden in the center of which was a tinkling bell. From another hidden recess of the tulle, streamers of lavender ribbon hung, at the end of each of the tiny envelopes which were dropped in front of each guest, announced the approaching wedding which will take place late this month. The guests included Mrs. Marie Morrell of Indianapolis, Miss Helen Scudder, Miss Leah Flint, Miss Alma Green, Miss Frances Frazee, Mrs. Roy E. Harrold, Mrs. Lee Endres, Mrs. Jack Knecht, Miss Jessie Kitchen, Miss Olive Buell, Mrs. Hubert Innis, Miss Nelle Baldwin, Miss Helen Black, Miss Esther Black, Mrs. Will Carler, Miss Fanny Stiers, Mrs. Walter Capp, Miss Henrietta Coleman, Mrs. Vincent Young, Miss Mary Anderson, Miss Jessie Anderson, Mrs. Allen Blackledge, Mrs. Hale Pearsey, Mrs. Will Amos, Miss Mayme Hiner, Miss Hannah Morris, Mrs. Albert Capp and daughter Ellen Jane and Miss Georgina Amos.

The bride-elect who has resided here all her life, is well known and for several years has been active in social circles. She is a member of the Kappa Kappa Kappa sorority and during the past year has had a prominent place in the state war work of the sorority. She is a graduate of the local high school and a former student at Western college at Oxford, O. J. Kennard Allen, who recently entered military training at Camp Taylor, completed a special course in optics at Columbia university, previous to which he graduated from the Cincinnati military academy.

THE AMERICAN WOMAN has NEW IDEALS OF FASHION

The busy, "every-minute-taken" life of today has taught the American woman that Fashion can serve. Temporary whims and fancies, make-shift tailoring and materials have no place in the simple and beautiful costume.

A BOX FROM HOME

Food savings of millions of Americans during our first year of war enabled this government to send enormous food shipments abroad for our fighting forces and the Allied nations. Our savings in cereals—out of a short crop—amounted to 154,900,000 bushels; all of which was shipped to Europe. We increased our meat and fat shipments 844,600,000 pounds. This was America's "box from home" to our army abroad and the civilians and military forces of the Allied nations.

YIELDS $203.96 FOR SORORITY WAR FUND

Sale of Pig, Chicken and Duck Nets Large Sum to be Used in Furnishing Hospital Ward

PIG REDONATED MANY TIMES

The selling of the pig, chicken and duck by the members of the Psi Iota Xi sorority, which resulted after a week's work by the sorority, during which time donations were taken as a preliminary to the sale, resulted in $203.96 being added to the war fund of the sorority, which will be turned over to the Red Cross and used for the furnishing of a ward in the hospital.

advance in France.

The sale which occurred in the down town district of the city Saturday night, was managed by Glen Miller and after the first sale was completed, the pig was redonated to the sorority and sold over and over, which resulted in an unusually large profit for the sorority. The pig was first awarded to Fred Heeb, the chicken to E. A. Lee and the duck to Samuel Morgan.

The auction which followed after Mr. Heeb returned the pig to the sorority, resulted in Ray Compton purchasing it for $23.00 and the duplication of his act by Fred Bosley, Walter Capp, Dr. Hall, Glen Miller and Chester Maury, brought sums of $17.50, $12.50, $10.00, $5.50 and five dollars and a final profit of $23.50 when it was sold for the first time.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN VICTIMS OF A U-BOAT

189 Passengers Aboard Steamer Galway Castle. Missing After it is Torpedoed

REMAINS AFLOAT TWO DAYS

London, Sept. 16.—The British steamer Galway Castle, of 7,985 tons gross, was torpedoed and sunk Thursday morning. She had 960 persons on board. The missing number 189. They include 120 passengers, thirty-six naval and military officers and men and thirty-three of the crew. Ninety third-class passengers lost were, without exception, women and children.

The Galway Castle left port for South Africa on Tuesday last and was torpedoed in a stormy sea. Hundreds of the passengers were rescued by attending steamers.

The passengers included 300 women and children. The bodies of three of the children who had died were brought ashore. The captain and several of the officers are reported to have been still on board the ship when she was last seen and sinking.

ing, hair clipping and disinfection of clothing can be done, have been established in the war zone.

The moving pictures that are to be part of the campaign against "cooties" show how the louse comes into existence, how it passes into the nymph stage and from that to the adult, and how it propagates its species. They also will show lesions caused by the bites of the parasites, and how to find the eggs and the insects, themselves in the folds of clothing. These will be added to films to be taken under the direction of the War Department which will show a delousing station, the devices used, and a company of men riding themselves of their unwelcome visitors.

To gather and correlate all the scientific knowledge available on the subject, Bureau of Entomology scientists have organized a study class that meets weekly and sends reports of its findings to army officers and others engaged in eradication of parasites.

The county army selection board has been notified that it will not be allowed to examine, physically any military registrants of last Thursday out of their turn. Many of the younger registrants who intend to enter college, have applied for permission to be examined before leaving here. The local board inquired and the reply said that registrants should be examined in their regular order. Heretofore, it has been permissible to examine registrants before they were called for the physical test, providing it did not interfere with the work of the board.

One of the scientists of the Bureau of Entomology, Department of Agriculture, also is serving as a host for the parasites, but in a more restricted sense than the Chicago man. His "cooties" are confined under the glass top of a wristlet, must like a wrist watch, and they pass their existence, from the egg stage to the dead adult, on the skin of his arm, and can not move to any other spot. Through the glass cover, the entomologist can watch the "cooties" as they emerge from their shells and go through all the stages of their life cycle.

Extensive governmental efforts to devise ways of overcoming the parasite are under way. Similar efforts have been made and are being made in practically every country that has large armies in the field. The war centered attention of entomologists upon body lice, which previous to the conflict had not received much attention as scientists believe they deserve.

The "cooties" has not yet appeared in numbers in the campaign against body lice, but it should be noted that it is not the only parasite that is a menace to the health of the soldier.

Heretofore, it has been permissible to examine registrants before they were called for the physical test, providing it did not interfere with the work of the board.

One of the scientists of the Bureau of Entomology, Department of Agriculture, also is serving as a host for the parasites, but in a more restricted sense than the Chicago man. His "cooties" are confined under the glass top of a wristlet, must like a wrist watch, and they pass their existence, from the egg stage to the dead adult, on the skin of his arm, and can not move to any other spot. Through the glass cover, the entomologist can watch the "cooties" as they emerge from their shells and go through all the stages of their life cycle.

Extensive governmental efforts to devise ways of overcoming the parasite are under way. Similar efforts have been made and are being made in practically every country that has large armies in the field. The war centered attention of entomologists upon body lice, which previous to the conflict had not received much attention as scientists believe they deserve.

The "cooties" has not yet appeared in numbers in the campaign against body lice, but it should be noted that it is not the only parasite that is a menace to the health of the soldier.

New Registrants May Not be Tested Physically Out of Turn

The county army selection board has been notified that it will not be allowed to examine, physically any military registrants of last Thursday out of their turn. Many of the younger registrants who intend to enter college, have applied for permission to be examined before leaving here. The local board inquired and the reply said that registrants should be examined in their regular order. Heretofore, it has been permissible to examine registrants before they were called for the physical test, providing it did not interfere with the work of the board.

"GASLESS" DAY WELL OBSERVED

Authorities Say They Are Positive Few Machines Run Were Used In Cases Of Emergency

SOME ABSOLUTE NECESSITY

County Defense Council Asked To Prevent Them Insulted By Being Called Slacker.

With the weather man working in co-operation with the fuel administration yesterday, "gasolineless" Sunday passed with a quietude which had marked the excellent records of both Sundays previous.

The authorities stated today that they were positive that the few machines which were employed were used in cases of emergency and in contrast with the Sunday previous when the names of nineteen motorists whose cars were in use, were taken by the police, no names were handed to the mayor this morning.

In view of the patriotic manner in which scores of Rush county people have answered to the appeal of gasoline conservation, the Rush county council has been asked to use every means possible to see that those people who do drive their cars on Sunday are not molested and insulted at every turn with the term "slacker" and other such names hurled at them.

There are numerous cases when it is absolute necessity to drive cars in Sunday and in such cases the fuel administration has granted privileges leaving the matter entirely with the conscience with the driver himself. It is not the desire of the fuel administration that any person or persons, beside the person who must make such use of automobiles, shall decide whether such use is warranted.

Injuries have been added to insult in numerous cases where cars were used for the purpose of church going, when no other method of travel was available. Although this use of cars is legitimate and in fact is urged, nevertheless parts of the machines were found to be missing in some cases. At the close of the services while other cars had large "slacker" signs painted across an entire side of the cars which will necessitate a repainting of the machines to cover the defacement.

Ministers, going and coming from services, physicians, and people otherwise engaged in emergency trips whose patriotism is as red blooded as those who hurled the taunts of slacker at the motorists have been placed in embarrassing positions and it is to alleviate these conditions that the Rush county council of defense asks that the practice be discontinued.

Massachusetts Nurse

Tells Women How to Get Strong

Greenfield, Mass.—"I am a nurse and the grippe left me in a weak, rundown condition with a cough—my friends asked me to try Vinol, I did so and it has built up my strength so that I am in perfect health at the present time and I am recommending Vinol to others."

—Mrs. F. M. Locke.

There is no secret about Vinol.

It owes its success in such cases to beef and cod liver, peptones, iron and manganese, potassium and calcium phosphates, the oldest and most famous body building and strength creating foods. It is strongly recommended by the highest medical authorities.

HORSE POISONING MAY BE HUN WORK

Four Horses Belonging to William Martin Dead and Three Others in Critical Condition.

POISON PLACED IN WATER

State Veterinarian Has Declared That Chemical Poisoning Was Responsible.

With five head of horses dead and two in a serious condition, the state veterinarian declares today chemical poisoning was administered to the horses which belonged to the stock owned by William Martin of Anderson township.

It is believed that the loss of stock is another result of Hun treachery which has developed along many lines in this country since the declaration of war. Much speculation was aroused when the horses began to die and as local veterinarians seemed undecided as to the cause of their deaths, state officials were called.

It was believed at first that a deadly epidemic prevailed but later, however, it was ascertained that it was a chemical poisoning. The decision of the state veterinarian in ascertaining the cause of the animal's death means that the poison did not result from bad feed or from weeds but that the deadly chemical had been placed in their feed or water.

Mr. Martin stated that he believes the poison was placed in the water tank since the horses are the only stock which use the watering trough and the same feed which the horses eat is also fed to the hogs.

The owner of the horses discredits the report that the poisoning might have been caused from the acid which was used in cleaning the tank when it was soldered recently. He declared that the soldering was done three weeks ago and that the tank had been in constant use ever since and that if that had been the cause, the effect would have been felt a long time before.

The horses began showing the effects of the poisoning within short intervals. Spasms resulted in a short time in death. The first case developed early in the week and within a short time the entire lot of seven had been affected.

Mr. Martin believes that there is only one answer to the barbarous deed and that is that it had been done by a German agent whose object seemed to be to reduce the production of food since Mr. Martin is one of the big food producers of the county. These hopes, however, have been frustrated since Mr. Martin has already procured enough horses to continue his work.

BELIEVED HOPES ARE ABOUT TO BE REALIZED

Men Who Left Here More Than a Year Ago For Camp Shelby Now in Embarkation Port

ARE EXPECTED TO SAIL SOON

It is believed that the hopes of the men of company B and the sanitary detachment of the old Fourth Indiana regiment, are about to be realized. As members of the 139th Field artillery, to which they were assigned after reaching Camp Shelby, Miss., a year ago last month, they have been straining at the leash eager to get into the fray in France. Letters received from these Rush county men who went away from here with the belief that they would be among the first to land on French soil, indicate that they are now at Camp Mills, Long Island, an embarkation port, from which they will likely sail soon. Some of their number are already in the front line trenches, having been selected for foreign service in other units.

Mexicans in the southwest, Indians of several western divisions, the foreign populations of the Atlantic seaboard cities, the negroes of the south and even in one remote part of Minnesota a group of Indian people, are all coming under the attention of the Home Service sections of the Red Cross. These sections are now being organized for the purpose of caring for the foreign-born and colored people who are being sent to the front lines.

Lieut. Charles E. Wolfe Says American Troops Are Straightening Out Crooks in Line

HIS TRIBUTE TO AMERICANS

Section in Which Headquarters of Regiment is Located is Bombed Frequently

The day is speeding near when the Hun cry of "enough" will be heard from Hell to Hoboken according to Lieut. Charles E. Wolfe, who as a member of the headquarters department of the first motor mechanics regiment, is in a lively sector in the zone of advance.

Lieut. Wolfe who is well known in this city, where he formerly resided, has recently been promoted to the rank of adjutant of his regiment and has entire control of all clerical work of the headquarters.

Although the former Rush county man was brigaded with the French at the opening of America's entry into the struggle and has not been thrown with Americans since their invasion in Europe, his praise of their work is the highest.

"As for the American soldier," he wrote, "God bless him. What a wonderful product he really is. It is true that competition is heavy here but the world may rest assured that when this game is over, the name of the American soldier will go down into the history of this war-wearied world as exemplifying the type that is the highest. Incidentally, the Hun is feeling his presence over here just at this time. The old line gets a kick now and then and has commenced to straighten out.

"The old game has made us weary of the tension and struggle. Although we are not in the same position of the boys on the front line who are in particular sectors which are getting hell pumped out of them every hour or so, we are often bombed from the air. The sensation of being bombed when you cannot see and can only hear the sound of the motors or the bomb as she hits, is not, I assure you conducive to the peace of mind or comfort."
